1. There was a wealth-y man who feast-ed ev-ery day, but God in heav-en is just; His eyes can bear no sin. His hell and heav-en are real; and God wants us to know that right out-side from the dawn till night, a need-y and sick man lay. But ho-li-ness and noth-ing less is need-ed to come to Him. For Christ en-dured what we each de-serve so heav-en could be our home. And if soon both men had died and stood be-fore their God. The those who don't be-lieve, God's judg-ment is their choice. But we be-lieve God's Son has paid for all our sin, then, rich man saw heav-en can't be bought; the poor man found he was those made right through the blood of Christ will know the great-est of by His grace, when we see His face, His smile will say, "Wel-come"
